MALIBU, CALIFORNIA

If you're a bona fide star of the silver screen in need of an escape, or you just want to live like Hollywood royalty does, look no further than Villa Versailles, a veritable seaside palace on more than five acres of oceanfront land in Malibu. The massive, 21,000-square-foot mansion comprises a whopping 10 bedrooms and 11 full baths, with amenities including seven fireplaces, seven garage bays, tennis courts, a barn, balconies, and a breathtaking swimming pool overlooking Versailles-style gardens. Whether your business here is film, function, or real-life respite, there's no more perfect place to create your own happily-ever-after storyline.

CARPINTERIA, CALIFORNIA

Classic Cape Cod-style architecture and a location directly on the sand combine to make this four-bedroom cottage the quintessential California beach house. Outside, guests can relax on one of two sun-soaked terraces while taking in views of the Pacific, or warm their toes in the sand by simply stepping off the porch. Inside, living areas are awash in bright white, cobalt blue, and cheerful yellow tones, while ample windows usher in an abundance of natural light. A pair of fireplaces and polished wood floors add to the home's New England-style atmosphere, but here, you won't have to shutter the place come winter.
